

I want FCC regulations to benifit the general public, and not the private sector. I do not support more media consolidation. I can see no justifiable cause to further limit the diversity in media, as it is supposed to and should be our greatest protector of the first ammendment.